Retarded Children To Have New 'Home'

Al Couppee, Sports Director of KOGO TV--Radio Channel 10, will speak on "What's New In San Diego Sports" Friday at the noon luncheon meeting of the Lemon Grove Men's Club in Michael's Restaurant.

Last Friday, Al Krause of the Home of Guiding Hands presented a program about the new 2.1 million dollar facility for retarded children.

Krause, who was introduced by the Home's Community Relations Director Bob Shumake, told of the plans for the "home", which will occupy 14 acres in Lakeside.

"Ground-breaking will be held June 1," Krause said. "We will move in in December."

The Home's Executive Director said initial construction would involve the building of eight living units and a complex of administration buildings.

"Grants from the State of California and the Federal Government have given us $1,251,338. That has left us with $850,000 to collect. At present the Home has received $150,000 of that amount in cash and pledges," said Krause.

He said the Home was in need of donations of any amount in order to finance complete construction of the residential facility for retarded children.

"Our overall program is to give a home away from home for retarded children," said Krause. The Lutheran Association for Retarded Children is the parent organization.

He said 175 applications have been received to date. They included the mentally retarded from ages three to 46. Permanent residents will be those in the severely retarded category.

The Home will also provide a special temporary care center for retarded children who are not so severely handicapped as the permanent residents.

There will be space for 24 children in each living unit, giving the facility a total occupancy of 192 residents.

Persons or organizations who wish to help the Home may call either Krause or Shumake at 298-9843.

Fire Bug Is SVFD

Fire departments are best known for putting out fires.

However, they also start fires.

The Spring Valley Fire Department started one several weeks ago for a "burn-down drill."

The SVFD, like many departments in the County, offers to clear a lot of a building through fire if the owner wishes.

Three minutes later smoke was pouring out of the building, bottom left. The fire was contained in the cupboard areas of the kitchen where it was set.

Five minutes after the fire was started it had completely engulfed the kitchen and was starting to spread throughout the building. The building was highly concentrated with smoke. The picture at top right illustrates this.

Big Assessment Point Missed

A forty-five point plan to reform the administration of the property tax has been proposed by a trio of state assemblyman.

Ramrodded by Assembly Speaker Jesse M. Unruh, and backstopped by Assemblymen Nicholas Petris and Leo J. Ryan, the omnibus proposal is, in the words of San Diego County Assessor Charles Williams, "pretty comprehensive."

Unruh, whom many of us believe will get his hat in the gubernatorial ring if President Johnson confers upon Gov. Pat Brown the nigrescent robes of a Supreme Court Justice, thus leaving the office of the governor wide open. Because of this possibility, no matter how remote, Speaker Unruh seldom fails to touch a base by which his political image is enhanced. On the face of it the various assessors' offices of the state are pretty good whipping boys because it is they who control your taxes by assessment practices.

San Diego Assessor Williams, who recently took over the scandal-ridden San Diego Assessor's office, wasn't altogether carried away by Unruh's proposals. One reason is that Williams has already invoked some of the reforms Unruh lately recommended. Also, not all of the reforms are within the purview of the assessor. Some carry carry with them legal problems that will take years to resolve.

Steps have already been taken to "open the assessor's records" in San Diego. Check and audit procedures by an outside agency has also been requested through the board of supervisors.

"If they really want reforms, why don't they recommend legislation that would bring tax consultants under the same law and penalty as a property owner?" Williams asked.

Edited to conserve space, the 45 point reform proposed by Unruh et al is listed:

1. Assess all property at a uniform ratio.
2. Print uniform ratio on all assessor's notices.
3. Reimburse low income senior citizens a portion of their previously paid taxes.
4. Set up property tax appeals board in each county.
5. Change lien date from March to Jan. 1.
6. Notify taxpayer of any increase in assessment.
7. Require assessor's appraisers to pass an examination.
8. Print both appraised and assessed value on tax bills.
9. Open assessor's records for inspection by law enforcement officers.
10. Establish independent appraisal commission for counties where a significant number of assessments vary more than 20% from county average.
11. Extend to 7 years the limit on fraudulent assessments.
12. Give taxpayer more time to appeal his assessment.
13. Require training sessions for appraisers.
14. Abolish assessors in general law cities.
15. Require Equalization to act when a county is outside a 15% tolerance range.
16. Lengthen period for hearing appeals.
17. Require appeals board to reduce non-uniform assessments.
18. Survey each county's assessment once in two years.
19. Establish method for counties to appeal preliminary assessment ratios.
20. Give appeals board power to subpoena records.
21. Eliminate mandatory filing of property statement by homeowner.
22. Increase penalty for failure to produce records from $100 to $500.
23. Repeal assessor's authority to keep one-half of the fines.
24. Make excessive assessment a basis for tax refund.
25. Cut back assessor's discretion in levying a penal assessment from 10 times value to one time its value.
26. Make auditors available to assist small counties in post-

Federal Judge, Court Nears For San Diego

WASHINGTON — A federal judgeship for San Diego and Imperial counties and establishment of a district court headquarters at San Diego are in sight following the passage last Tuesday of H.R. 9168.

Congressman Lionel V a n Deerlin (D.—S. D.) hailed passage of the bill and credited members of the San Diego Bar Association with a major role in the victory.

H.R. 9168 amends the United States Code so as to establish the Northern, Eastern, Central and Southern judicial districts. The Northern District comprises 15 northern counties, with courts held at Eureka, Oakland, San Francisco and San Jose. The Eastern District comprises 34 counties, with courts held at Fresno, Redding and Sacramento. The Central District comprises seven counties, with courts held at Los Angeles.

Formerly, court for San Diego and Imperial counties was held at Los Angeles. Court for the new Southern District will be held at San Diego.

Local Musicians Are Superior

The Mount Miguel High School Orchestra and Concert Band received straight superior ratings recently at the San Diego District Music Festival for orchestras and bands.

Miguel, in receiving the superior ratings, was the only high school orchestra and band to accomplish such a feat.

The concert band presented "Burlesque" by Shostokovich, "Fetes" from Three Nocturnes by Debussy and "Canzona" by Peter Mennin.

The Miguel orchestra presented "Dance Rhythms" by Reigger, "Overture to Candide" by Bernstein and "Concerto Grosso No. 8" by Corelli. Solos were given by Sharon Young, Don Mulkey and Paula Hollowell.

The orchestra will be entered in the Fontana Festival Friday.

Sup Acclaims Bus Drivers In LG School District

"Lemon Grove School District can brag of half a million miles of safe driving," proudly stated Byron L. Netzley, superintendent, this week as the nation observed School Bus Safety Week.

He said that district insurance carriers' records showed that during the past ten years, Lemon Grove's school buses safety transported students in kindergarten through eighth grade without a serious accident and without any pupil injuries.

School Bus Safety Week is March 7 to March 11 this year. "Watch for the red flashing light," Netzley warned motorists. "This means that children will be crossing the street. Cars must stop when the red light is flashing if they are approaching or following the school bus."

He noted that an orange light on a parked bus means that motorists may proceed but with caution. It is not necessary to stop.

In Lemon Grove there are six school buses, and each averages more than four trips a day. At the close of 1965 an actual count showed that 1,600 seats are used during an average day and 300 miles are driven. School buses here cover an average of 50,000 miles a year.

60 Trips A Day

In the 60 trips each day, elementary and junior high students living beyond the "walking distance" set by state law are served in the mornings and afternoons. In between these times kindergarten children ride back and forth to school.

Lemon Grove is one of the few school districts in the United States with all women bus drivers. The women who drive for Lemon Grove are quite proud of their 37 years total experience of transporting students. In all that time and over all those miles, only three minor "bumps" occurred. "Of course," they say in chorus, "each of those was the other drivers fault, and each of those other drivers was a man!"

Netzley praised not only drivers for the fine record, but he also gave great credit to other school departments in charge of hiring, maintaining the buses in top condition, and scheduling efficient routes.

"And we must not forget to credit the pupils themselves," he concluded. He noted that they are taught the rules for safe bus riding and appear to be very apt pupils.

Grove's Fairest To Be Sought

The Lemon Grove segment of the Fairest of the Fair will be held April 20 at 7:30 p.m. at the Lemon Grove Junior High school, according to Dr. Paul Califano.

This year, as in the past, the Lemon Grove Kiwanis club will sponsor the local competition.

Contestants must be single, between the ages of 16 and 24, and compete in swim suits and formals. Local winner will become Miss Lemon Grove and will compete with other area winners in Fairest of the Fair contest in June. Contestants must live in Lemon Grove.

Application blanks may be obtained at the office of the Lemon Grove Review, at 7834 Lester Ave.

Dr. Califano may be reached at his office at 7625 Broadway, or by calling him at 463-2354.

Fire 'Set' Officers Testify

SAN DIEGO (CNA)—"It was a 'set fire,'" Sgt. Robert W. Newsom, head of the Sheriff's fire and arson detail, said of the Nov. 1 blaze that damaged an unoccupied rental house at 3753 Grove St., Lemon Grove.

Sgt. Newsom was testifying for the prosecution in Superior Court in Superior Court in the trial of Joseph Luther Moore. 73, of 3837 Costa Bella Pl., Lemon Grove, owner of the rental, who is charged with arson.

Newsom and Capt. Raymond W. Carmody, Lemon Grove Fire Department fire marshal, testified that the blaze had two speraate and unconnected points or origin.

Electricity was ruled out when records showed electrical service had been cut off Oct. 18.

Carmody and Newsom both said they smelled the odor of a petroleum product in the burned timbers and that "fluid patterns" on two-by-fours indicated the fluid ran down the timbers and the fire climbed upward.

"There was no logical reason why flamable liquids should be found at both points of the fire origin and no logical reason for them to be on the wall interior facing," Newsom told the jury of five women and seven men. Defense testimony was scheduled to follow late this week.

Lemon Grove Shopping Trip Pays Local Man $500 Cash

by Max Goodwin

Washington's birthday means something to every American but it brought an extra Washington's Day birthday present to Mr. and Mrs. Alexander G. Metz, of 8085 Alton Dr., Lemon Grove.

It was the day Al won $500, one of the prizes in a match-the-bills contest at the Lemon Grove Mayfair Market.

Al is a 100% disabled WWII veteran, who was wounded in the stomach on Okinawa in 1945 when he and one other man were the sole survivors of a reconnaisance platoon of 38.

He is now attending Grossmont College, training as a computer programmer. He also does the grocery shopping for his wife and himself.

"To say that I was happy to win the money is an understatement," Metz said. "My wife, Vivian, was involved in an accident (Skyline and Alton) early in February and our car was a total wreck. Vivian is still under medical care.

"We used the money to buy a 1964 model car to replace the 1959 one which was wrecked," he said.

Meanwhile, his wife has returned to work as insurance secretary at the Lemon Grove Medical Group, and he has returned to his hobby of writing articles of his war experiences which he hopes will be incorporated into a book.

Insurance Writers Sponsor Medic Alert

Immediately preceding Life Insurance Week March 13-19, the San Diego Association of Life Underwriters is kicking off the Medic Alert campaign which they have undertaken for the coming year according to Max Goldberg, chairman of the campaign committee.

The purpose of the campaign, which starts Saturday, March 12th, is to acquaint the public with the Medic Alert Foundation and its services. Its primary purpose is to convince people with physical disorders such as diabetes, heart conditions, epilepsy, allergies, etc., to wear identifying bracelets and necklaces, so that their lives might not be jeopardized in case of accidents. It is also to alert anyone assisting others after an accident to look out for such bracelets and necklaces. Many lives have been saved because people were wearing Medic Alert identifications.

True Nature Of Substance To Be Sunday's Sermon

The true nature of "Substance" as defined first by Biblical prophets and later by Christ Jesus will be the Lesson-Sermon subject in all Christian Science services this Sunday. Related passages from the denominational textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, the Discoverer and Founder of Christian Science, will complete the readings.

The story of Peter's healing of the lame man at the gate of the temple called Beautiful (Acts 3) will be presented to illustrate the theme that real substance is spiritual. Peter's response to the man's plea for alms was: "Silver and gold have I none; but such as I have give I thee: In the name of Jesus Christ of Nazareth rise up and walk." The account continues: "And he leaping up stood, and walker, and entered with them into the temple, walking, and leaping, and praising God."

Passages to be read from Science and Health include these lines: "When we come to have more faith in the truth of being than we have in error, more faith in Spirit than in matter, more faith in living than in dying, more faith in God than in man, then no material suppositions can prevent us from healing the sick and destroying error.

"The course covers the old and new testaments, gives a deeper understanding of the Holy book, and works out a plan of salvation for the student," he said.

He emphasized that there is no cost nor obligation connected to the offer. A postcard or letter to him at 2515 Imperial Ave. will bring the course within a week, he said.

This coupon may be used.

Local Teams Lose In County Boys Basketball Championships

Four local teams were knocked out of the San Diego County Boys Basketball Championships last Saturday in first round play at Mount Miguel High's gymnasium.

Spring Valley Junior High No. 1 fell victim to Emerald Junior High of El Cajon, 29-10, while SV Junior High No. 2 was losing to Greenfield Thunderbirds, 45-18. Encanto took it on the chin from the La Mesa All-Stars, 51-23. All three were in the seventh grade and under division.

Eighth grade and under division results showed teams from La Mesa, Lakeside, San Diego, La Jolla and El Cajon taking first round victories.

The La Mesa All-Stars No. 1, behind Kyle Hypes' 14 points, swept past the Heartlanders, 46-30.

Emerald Junior High topped La Mesa All-Stars No. 2, 48-19, as Tim Doerr scored 16. Lakeside's Steve Vickery paced the Broncos to a 26-22 win over Memorial 'Y' Lions JV. He hit for 17.

MV Places Four On All-Loop Team

San Diego CIF Wrestling Champion Monte Vista High led the All-Grossmont League Wrestling Team announced earlier this week with four selections on the 12-member team.

The Monarchs placed a 98-pounder Dan Kida, 106-pounder Tom Backman, 123-pounder Glenn Takahashi and 168-pounder Bill Guiette to top all other schools.

Charles La Gamma (115), Ron Pittman (141) and Wally Johnson (183) were the Matadors lauded for their performances in league competition.

Miguel finished second in CIF behind Monte Vista. The Monarchs outpointed Miguel, 50-48, in the CIF Tournament held several weeks ago.

No Action On Local Hearing

The County Board of Supervisors, in a letter this week, rejected the request by the L. G. Chamber of Commerce of a public hearing in Lemon Grove on the proposed transit bill.

Supervisors pointed out that they, too, are objecting to deficiencies of the Bill (the Schrade-Mills Transit Bill) and that among the first amendments that may be undertaken at the 1966 special session of the Legislation, will be the one the L. G. Chamber complains about.

The CofC wanted a public airing held locally concerning the responsibility Lemon Grove and Spring Valley would have if swept into a taxing district.

Alex Woods, president of the Lemon Grove Chamber of Commerce, had been instructed by the chamber board to ask the supervisors to schedule the hearing.

On Tuesday, the Local Agency Formation Commission, sitting in San Diego, was attempting to unravel some of the tangles of the county-wide issue.

Woods said that he was instructed to make the request for a local hearing because "public transportation is important to this area, but getting a 5% tab for 1% usage isn't exactly what we had in mind," he said.

The percentages resulted from a proposal to form a bus district-wide taxing authority in which Lemon Grove and Spring Valley would contribute 5% of the taxes by virture of 5% of the assessed valuation being concentrated here, Woods said.

"Neither is there any arrangements for us having a voice in the operation of the district," he added.

Pool Players Must Be 16

SAN DIEGO (CNA)—County Supervisors have upheld the recommendation of Sheriff Joseph O'Connor and the Juvenile Protection Committee that the board not act to lower the age at which persons can enter places where pool is played. The present minimum is 16.

The suggestion was followed reluctantly, however.

Second District Supervisor Henry A. Boney said, "Frankly, I'm a little surprise at the recommendations. I see little difference in pool or bowling operation."

Supervisor Robert Dent said that probably 50 per cent of commercial pool is in bowling alleys. He said, "I'm not going to oppose the recommendations but I think we are a long way from the time that pool halls were considered dens of inquity. I think we'll change our minds on this some day."

A cribbage board has 60 holes for each player.

Pamphlet Tells The Facts About 'The Common Cold'

A new pamphlet, "Common Cold: the facts," is now available at the Tuberculosis and Health Association of San Diego County, according to Dr. Amorita Treganza, Lemon Grove-Spring Valley area chairman of the Tuberculosis and Health Association of San Diego County.

"For more than 3,000 years, man has begun each winter with the hope of a new remedy for the common cold," Dr. Treganza said. "Each years he falls back on the advice of his neighbor, an advertising copy writer, or what helped last year.

She said the new pamphlet offers facts to separate the truth about this most common respiratory disease from the fantasies and superstitions surrounding it.

It also offers common sense suggestions about preventing colds, and what to do if "a cold catches you," Dr. Treganza said.

Eighteenth in a series of pamphlets on lung diseases made available by Christmas Seal contributions, "Common Cold: the facts" may be obtained without charge from the San Diego association at 3861 Front St., San Diego, Calif., 92103, telephone 297-3901.

Other pamphlets in the series set forth the facts about tuberculosis, asthma, bronchiectasis, chronic bronchitis, emphysema, influeza, and other respiratory diseases, Dr. Treganza said.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Well, it seems as though our Superintendent's (Glenn E. Murdock, superintendent of the La Mesa-Spring Valley Elementary School District.) devious ways are popping out! Recently, a report of the Stanford Achievement Test results was sent out to all parents in the district showing what nice high results our district has. Now it comes out that the Spring Valley fifth graders aren't doing as well as Mr. Murdock would like us to believe. According to Assemblyman Charles B. Garrigus, Chairman of the California Assembly Committee on Education, "Our figures for the past three years would indicate that Spring Valley fifth graders have not been achieving at the rate that this type of district usually shows." Why is Mr. Murdock trying to make us believe things which aren't true? Could it possibly be because the type of permissive education he is putting into the schools just isn't as good as emphasis on basic education?

EXPOSE* predicts that an attempt is going to be made by the La Mesa-Spring Valley Teachers Association to bring the Southern Section Ethics Commission of CTA into this district to hold a kangaroo court to stir up an even messier turmoil. GOOD LUCK!

EXPOSE also predicts that a majority of teachers from the Kempton staff will resign, take an extended leave of absence, or find work elsewhere. EXPOSE feels that if the administrators had not applied pressure that disrupted the Amidon-like plan at Kempton Street School, the teachers would not have had to even consider quitting because of the pressure and fish bowl atmosphere which have been forced upon them.

EXPOSE Committee

(*EXPOSE Committee chairman Murray said her organization seeks school operation facts for parents that are not otherwise available. She said the report by Assemblyman Garrigus is a case in point.)

Dear Editor:

The excerpt from McIntosh in the "Tired American" column has quite varied claims.

Let's hope he will add the "Hate and fear peddlers" who abound in the land. Well heeled and getting rich fast, they drape themselves in psuedo religious cloaks and formats bemoaning the evil on every hand. Searching, poking, prying and imagining a sinister motive and plot in almost every institution and undertaking which does not coincide with their hypocritical, phony, funds-meddlist clicks; they hang the perpetual Judaic curse over the heads of honest if naive people everywhere.

They are the sorriest and most despicable of the lot.

California beer drinkers consumed 9¼ million barrels of the beverage of moderation in 1965 a record local, state and federal tax tab of $153.7 million, or and in so doing contributed to more than $420,000 per day.

ENGAGED — Dianne Wyatt, current Miss Lemon Grove, is planning a Sept. 5 wedding. Miss Wyatt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David R. Wyatt, of 3879 Capitol, Lemon Grove, will marry Gary G. Beebe, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald G. Beebe, of 1520 Watwood Rd., Lemon Grove. Miss Wyatt was graduated from Helix in 1964 and Grossmont Vocational Nursing School in 1965. She is now a nurse at Mercy Hospital. Beebe was graduated from Mt. Miguel in 1963 and spent a semester with the University of the Seven Seas. He is presently attending Grossmont College. Miss Wyatt has sung with the Collegian Ensemble at Skyline Wesleyan Church for the past three years and in June, will make a Caribean, Central and South American tour with the 14-voice ensemble. The couple plan to be married in the Skyline Methodist church and make their home in Lemon Grov.

Starlight To Present 'Flower Drum Song'

Casting is now complete for "Flower Drum Song", first play of Starlight's 1966 summer season.

Mrs. Lauren C. Post, president of the San Diego Civic Light Opera Association, said "The auditions this year have been remarkable. I am always amazed at the endless variety of good, solid talent available in our community, and our casts this year strike us as being as strong and talented as any of the touring shows."

Artistic director Dr. William J. Adams echoes Mrs. Post's opinion. "This is an extremely talented group performing in Rodgers & Hammerstein's most popular musicals—I can't think of a better formula for a successful show," Adams said.

"Flower Drum Song" will run from July 14 through July 24. The story of two generations of Chinese in the American melting pot will star Suzanne Reamo Leamer, former Miss San Diego and 1960 runner-up for the Miss America crown, as Mei Li. Songstress Leona Adoniz will play Linda Low, a brassy Chinese-American nightclub stripper who competes with Mei Li for the affections of the harassed groom.

The La Mesa Camera Club will hold its regular meeting Tuesday at 8 p.m. Site of the meeting will be Porter Hall, 8425 University Ave.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Editor:

I read with great interest Mr. Dryden's plea for a single campus concept which would serve the entire Grossmont District from it's present location. He is quoted in a newspaper that "unless the public tells other board members how they feel, Grossmont Junior College will become a ninth high school."

I disagree emphatically. His plan would result in a large campus similar to San Diego State with all the problems that a high student population creates. Gone would be the junior college concept of transitional education from high school to higher learning. Furthermore, the location itself cries out against any expansion beyond the original plans.

I also disagree with Mr. Dryden on costs of a large single campus with a second campus at the Monte Vista site. He would have a valid point if he were positive that a second junior college would never be required, but I feel that at least two junior colleges will be required to serve the District adequately. The demand for more education will increase rather than lessen. And so, if we are to build a second junior college eventually, would it not be economically prudent to acquire a second site now while it is available at a cost that will be greater in the future.

I want to go on record as being emphatically opposed to multiple story construction of the present Grossmont Junior College and very strongly in favor of a second campus located on the Monte Vista site.

Dear Editor:

Your fine paper has been a profitable investment for me since I started my subscription last year. I read it, of course, primarily as a source of prospects but I find it a pleasure to read such fine reporting as in yesterday's "The Dimmer View".

My daughter and I were pleasurably surprised to find our names in the article on Helix High's Mid-Term graduates along with many of her friends. I noted that this event was not covered in our La Mesa paper. Thank you for filling in over 'our way.'

I encourage you to continue the high quality reporting and the viewpoint it reflects.

Best Regards,

Dear Editor:

I was impressed by the article you wrote "Touring Spring Valley." It interested me greatly because it brought to my mind the things I could remember about the growth of the Valley in my years here.

On the other hand I heard a number of my neighbors say that they enjoyed it so much because it gave them a feeling of better acquaintance of the place where they were living and they wished there were more such things printed.

It gave me an idea that I'd like to share with you. Perhaps you can use it in some way. Now that the fire department feels the need for a new ambulance so much, perhaps an article or a series of them from time to time could be written concerning the history of that department. Many of us around here, especially the old-timers, remember how it began and how it has grown.

It's just a thought, but I couldn't go on without saying something about it. I wanted to relay to you the thanks so many have expressed for the article in last week's paper.

Dear Editor:

Your editorial "Bigness Does Not Make Happiness" in the Jan. 13, 1966, edition states that Lemon Grove is a small but happy district with good teachers and, and I quote, "as far as we know there is no salary dissatisfaction". The first part of your argument is undisputed. Lemon Grove is a small but happy district, judging by the large number of teachers who have been teaching in the district for ten years or longer. The second part of your statement quoted above is certainly open to argument. The salary committee representing the teachers of our district has presented our request for salary adjustment to the school board each year, and each year they have had to accept a compromise from the board usually based on a lower figure than the original request.

Speaking for myself, I have yet to speak to a single teacher who feels that he is well paid. Salaries could, and must be, increased. Teachers are happy in this district for a variety of reasons, but I'm certain good pay is not one of them.

I'm sure that most of us have, at some time or other, been offered a teaching position in a different district at a great increase in salary, as much as $1200 in some cases. At this point, I'm sure the old saw will be voiced, "If they don't like it here, why don't they move?" Moving is not the answer to good salaries. Better pay is!

It appears that the teachers in this district are being taken advantage of because they are happy teaching here. Happiness, however, does not pay the bills.

I won't go in to the arguments on unification voiced in your editorial other than to say that it seems to be the best argument for higher pay. Bigger district—better pay.

I do think your example of using La Mesa-Spring as an indication of what one can expect from unification, is, in my opinion, ludicrous. La Mesa is so filled with "Right-wingers" that it's listing to one side. Why not choose Grossmont as an example of a large district?

A happy but dissatisfied teacher
James E. Dunwoody

Dear Editor:

CBS-TV's excellent health test program again shows the importance and value of walking to physical fitness and good health.

Dr. Paul Dudley White, world renowned heart specialist, who treated President Eisenhower, has persistently recommended walking as one of the best forms of overall exercise which helps prolong life and avoid heart attacks.

The New York subway strike proved again that human beings can walk long distances without great strain and feel much better for having done so. Mayor John Lindsay walked four miles from his hotel to City Hall every morning.

An invitation is hereby extended to all men and boys from the ages of 9 to 90 to participate in amateur race walking competition. No experience necessary. There are age group walks, "handicap" walks, Senior and Junior walks and old-timer walks—something for all ages.

The AAU (Amateur Athletic Union) is the only organization which promotes amateur race walking competition for men and boys in the USA. Race walking is a part of the track and field program and the Olympic Games. It's fun and simple to do and does not require any special equipment, gymnasiums or swimming pools. If interested, write to: John D. MacLachlan Jr., Chairman National Race Walking Committee, 217 East 9th Ave., Escondido, Calif., 92025, 746-6453.

Peace Corps Tests To Be Given Saturday

San Diego area residents interested in putting their skills to use in developing nations around the world are invited to take the Peace Corps placement test at 9 a.m. Saturday at the S. D. Post Office building, room 219, 815 "E" St.

The Peace Corps uses the placement test to determine how an applicant can best be utilized overseas. The test measures general aptitude and the ability to learn a language, not education or achievement. (If test scores indicated a limited language-learning ability, for example, the Peace Corps tries to place the applicant in an English-speaking country.) The placement test requires no preparation and is non-competitive —an applicant can neither pass nor fail.

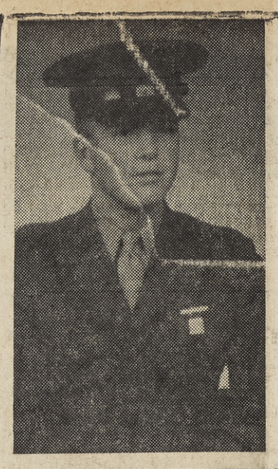

The application form, not the placement test, is the most important factor in the selection of Volunteers. Persons interested in serving in the Peace Corps must fill out an application, if they have not already done so, and present it to the tester before taking the test. Applications may be obtained from local post offices or from the Peace Corps, Washington, D. C. 20525.

The placement test takes about an hour and a half. An optional achievement test for applicants who have studied French or Spanish requires another hour.

Senior Citizens Book 'Luncheon Is Served'

A "Luncheon is Served" party has been set for Monday at noon by the Lemon Grove Senior Citizens club at the First Congregational church, 2770 Glebe Rd., Lemon Grove.

Live Music Available To Schools Via Grant

Funds available through a Ford Foundation grant permit county schools to have concerts either wholly or partially paid according to Young Audiences, Inc. Young Audiences is a nonprofit, national organization which provides live chamber music for school children. The string quartet, harp trio, or woodwind quartet demonstrates its instruments in addition to performing. The two aspects are integrated with lively commentaries of the music, the composer, and even the history of the times.

Once a concert has been performed in the school the demand for a repeat performance has been so great that each year the number of concerts has increased considerably.

To apply for concerts call the San Diego Symphony Association office, 232-3078, or write P.O. Box 3175, San Diego, Calif.

Police Science Program At Grossmont JC Lauded

Grossmont College president John S. Hansen has been notified by the California Department of Justice Commission on Peace Officer Standards and Training that the college's police science program has been certified as exceeding the standards established under the regulations of the Commission.

Certification of Grossmont College's police science program permits police and sheriff's departments throughout the state to employ graduates of the program with the assurance that all of the basic course requirements for peace officers, as set forth in the State Administrative Code, have been fulfilled.

Arcadia Chief of Police, Robert S. Seares, Commission Chairman, on notifying Hansen of the certification stated, "The Commission congratulates you and Grossmont College for your outstanding police science program. The Commission especially commends Director of Vocational Training C. Allen Paul, Dean Dr. Charles C. Collins, and Police Science Director Vincent Alfaro and the excellent staff of police science instructors for their outstanding contributions in upgrading the quality of California law enforcement."

Local Marine Private Answers Students

Early in February Wes Stafford's sixth grade class at Casa de Oro School decided it would like to write to someone in the service, preferably stationed in Viet Nam.

Student Steve Reid suggested a letter to be sent to a friend of his, John Haynes, who is with the 9th Marines at Da Nang Air Base.

Haynes was a 1965 graduate of Mount Miguel High School and is well known in the Spring Valley-Lemon Grove area. He has been in Viet Nam since December, 1965. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Haynes of S. V.

He would appreciate letters from his home town. His address is PFC John F. Haynes 2141952, 1st. Bn. 9thh Marines, H & S Co. 106 Plt. Marines No. 24, c/o FPO, San Francisco, Calif., 96601.

Thank you very much for the interesting letter. Steve's older sister told me that the class was going to write, but I had no idea what it would be like. When I unfolded it, it was quite a surprise.

I think I wil try to answer the questions that the kids asked now. I'll try and do it separately.

Kurt, there are quite a few poisonous snakes here, and tigers, but the only real problem we have had is with rabid dogs.

Dennis Gurling, I am a mule driver. A Mule is a motorized four wheel platform that carries a 106 mm recoiless rifle. The weapon is capable of a range of three miles. I'm also a 106 gunner. I am stationed right off the air strip right now.

Chris Melton, according to the Marine Corps, I don't have a gun, I have a .45 Colt-semi-automatic pistol and a M-14 rifle. Plus wherever I go the 106 goes with me. Commonly known as the "big gun that shows no mercy."

Mike Pettijohn, I have four sergeants. One is Sgt. Tino and he's the big wheel. Then there is Sgt. White, Sgt. Collins and Sgt. Doring, whom we call Butch. We call all of them by their nickname. Mine is Gabby or Blue I.

David Thomas, I have a lot of good friends and we would all risk our lives for each other. In war it doesn't pay to have enemies behind your back.

Mike Wilson, I think I've already answered your question. Talk to Dennis Gurling about it.

Roy, I'm only a private first class, therefore I have many bosses.

Mark, Paul and Bob, thank you for the jokes. A little laughing is well needed.

Ronnie Myers, I also will be glad to get back to the states but I've got almost 10 more months here.

Michele, Viet Nam is real nice. A little hot but around here there is always a cool breeze blowing. We don't sleep at night and during the day time I sleep in what is known as a hard back, a tent with a wooden frame and floor about 2 feet off the ground.

Tom, I try not to open my eyes and look at the war, but I can't help it. It's a terrible sight. Three of my friends were killed in the last six weeks and one got his arm shot off. It was a real but terrible sight.

Cindy, I can't help but think about the war but I don't like it.

Joanna and Darlene, I don't like the war but it has to be in order to America the way it is.

Robin, I do wish there could Peace but that can never be, the way things are here, at least not for a while yet.

Well I have to go now. It is getting late. Thanks again for the letter.

Your friend,
Johnny.

Here is another column by veteran writer Pete Odens of Imperial Valley. An interesting historian, his columns, which we will publish from time to time, will concern history of Southern California.

EL CENTRO—It was a beautiful Sunday morning in the year 1908. Many of the good people of Chihuahua had gone to attend services in the cathedral which stood at the end of the lovely Avenida Zarco, but a young man and his girl were sitting on a bench at the other end of the avenue, talking of love and the beauty of life. These two saw a man, who is usually referred to as a bandit but whom many believe to have been a hero, take revenge on the one who had wronged his sister.

A rider came galloping into town from the direction of the nearby dam, Efraim de la Vega told us over a cup of coffee in his El Centro home, and Efraim was the youngster who saw it. The man jumped from his horse and tied it to a tree, then he walked over into an open butcher shop.

Suddenly, a report rang out and the man came running out of the shop, jumped on his horse and galloped off. Minutes later, the street was full of soldiers who soon rode off in pursuit of the man who had killed the butcher. They would surely capture the bandit Pancho Villa.

But Pancho had stationed his men in the bushes at the side of the road which led to the dam, de la Vega said, and when the federales approached, they ran into the ambush. "All of them were killed, while Villa lost only one man," de la Vega continued.

Born In Rio del Oro

Pancho Villa was born Doroteo Arango in Rio del Oro, Mexico, in 1877. As a young fellow, he tried hard to help his mother, his sisters and younger brothers eke out a living. When the son of the mayor of the town, young Leonard Negrete, raped his sister, he went to him and asked him to marry her. By way of an answer, he was ordered to leave Rio del Oro. Young Doroteo complied but warned the mayor and his son that he would get even with them

He then joined a group of bandits in the hills. Eventually, the leader of the group died and when young Doroteo was chosen to succeed him, he adopted the leader's name and became know as Francisco (Pancho) Villa. But through the years he had promised himself that he would take his revenge on the man who had wronged his sister, and when he located him in Chihuahua where Leonardo had opened a butcher shop, Pancho saw his chance to kill him.

"So you might say that Pancho Villa was a bandit," de la Vega said, "but to me, he was a hero. When the revolution started against President Porfirio Diaz, who had remained in office for more than 30 years, Pancho Villa became active against the regime which had hurt him so much."

Loved Democracy

"He was no longer a bandit then," de la Vega continued, "but a man who loved democracy.' And de la Vega ought to know, for he himself rode with Villa for four long years taking part in famous battles against the federales such as Juarez, Samalyuca, Santa Cruz and Jimenez.

Born on Sept. 12, 1891 in Matamores, State of Coahuila, Mexico, Efraim de la Vega wanted to become a physician but in 1910 decided to join the revolutionary army and the forces of Francisco Madera. "Diaz was a dictator," Efraim recalled, "he perpetuated his regime—I wanted democracy for my country."

It was before the battle of the city of Juarez which took place on May 10, 1911 that Pancho Villa offered his services to Madero who accepted, making the bandit leader a colonel in his army.

"It was Pancho Villa who supported Madero when his troops became rebellious," de la Vega told us. "This was after the battle of Juarez when Madero refused to execute the head of the federal troops, General Mercado. Most of his men thought the time had come to take revenge, but Pancho Villa told them that Madero was right. Unfortunately, this attitude later on led to Madero's death because when he became president, he did not remove the head of the Mexican army, General Victoriano Huerta. He was betrayed by him and assassinated, together with his vice-president."

As for young de la Vega, he was stationed in the north of Mexico which had been placed under the command of Pancho Villa and was working in the hospital of Juarez. He recalls Villa as a man of excellent judgment, passionately interested in the poor people of his country.

Discipline Strict

"I liked the strict discipline he kept," de la Vega commented. "He was a great organizer. And he always kept the federales wondering when and where he would strike next. In one of the battles, the commander of the federal troops thought Villa was somewhere in the south and when he saw our troops approaching, he thought we must be federales and was quite surprised when the guns started firing."

Villa's wife Luz was as active as her husband, Efraim said. "She organized a hospital within 24 hours after the battle of Samalayuca—a very dynamic person who had a very deep appreciation of what Pancho stood for.'

In 1916, de la Vega left Pancho Villa's command. "Peace was coming back to my country," he said. Asked about the famous raid of Villa forces on Columbus, New Mexico in 1916, de la Vega shook his head. "I believe what I read somewhere—that Villa himself was not in Columbus and the raid was conducted by his men without his knowledge."

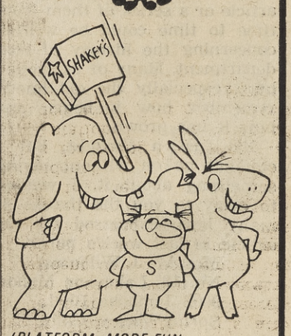

Villa, who wanted peace for his country, was shot and killed in 1923 when he was driving to his farm in an open automobile. "To me he will always be a hero," de la Vega concluded. "You may say he was a bandit —but look at Lafayette—what was he—a hero or a pirate? You tell me."

De la Vega went to El Pasa, Tex. in 1916 and joined a firm as a tailor since red tape made it impossible for him to resume his studies in Mexico. He came to the Imperial Valley of California in 1918 and has been living here with his wife Nina ever since.

"GOD ...not chance"
The more deeply you understand the power and love of God, the less you believe in chance. There's a law of Spirit much greater than the law of averages, and those who discover it, and live by it, will help to light the world's way out of chaos. Hear this public lecture titled "God — Not Chance" by NORMAN B. HOLMES, C.S.B., member of the Board of Lectureship of The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass.
